 Controllers' Office, at the Athenæum, Sixth street, below Walnut, Philadelphia. The Stated Meetings of the Board are held on the Second Tuesday of each Month, at 3 o'clock, P. M.

R E P O R T .

IN compliance with the requirements of law, the " Controllers of Public Schools of the First School District of Pennsylvania," herewith submit to their fellow-citizens the Forty-third Annual Report of the condition of the Schools within their jurisdiction.

SCHOOLS.

The whole number of schools under the superintendence of the Board is 347, classified as follows :

High Schools,	-	-	-	-	2
Grammar Schools,	-	-	-	-	57
Unclassified Schools,	-	-	-	-	48
Secondary Schools,	-	-	-	-	59
Primary Schools,	-	-	-	-	181

Showing an increase from last Report of twelve schools.

The gross expenses of the Boys' High School were $23,635 37, viz :

For Salaries,	-	-	-	-	$18,980 00
Books and Stationery,	-	-	-	-	538 34
Incidentals,	-	-	-	-	1,939 51

The rate per pupil being

For Tuition,	-	-	-	-	$36 15
Books and Stationery,	-	-	-	-	1 03
Incidentals,	-	-	-	-	3 70

Incidentals include Housekeeper's salary, fuel, printing, and petty expense account.

The increase in the item of incidentals was caused by printing a general catalogue of the school, none having been printed since 1855.

The gross expenses of the Girls' High and Normal School were $7,766 09.

For Salaries of Teachers,	-	-	-	$5,250 00
Books and Stationery,	-	-	-	429 47
Incidentals,	-	-	-	1,118 15

The rate per pupil being

For Tuition,	-	-	-	$15 63
Books and Stationery,	-	-	-	1 28
Incidentals,	-	-	-	3 33

For minute information in regard to the above schools, reference is made to the Reports of the Principals, which accompany this Report.

The gross expenses of the Grammar, Secondary, and Primary, and Unclassified Schools, were $504,678 04.

For Salaries of Teachers,	-	-	-	$343,512 37
Books and Stationery,	-	-	-	38,806 84
Incidentals,	-	-	-	55,930 09

The rate per pupil being

For Tuition,	-	-	-	$5 19
Books and Stationery,	-	-	-	59
Incidentals,	-	-	-	84

$6 62

The increase in the number of Teachers during the year was fifty-one.

The confidence reposed by the community in our system of Public School education is fully shown by the steadily increasing number of scholars in attendance. The whole number belonging to the several schools is 67,095, of whom 32,738 are males, and 34,360 are females: an increase over last year of 3,565 pupils, a greater proportionate increase than we have ever before reported.

From 1857 to 1858	the increase was	2,422
" 1858 to 1859	" "	1,879
" 1859 to 1860	" "	2,345
" 1860 to 1861	" "	1,785
" 1861 to 1862	" "	3,565

EXPENDITURES.

The expenditures for 1861 amounted in all to $546,430 32, embraced in the items enumerated below :

For Salaries of Teachers,	-	-	$343,512 57
Rents of School Houses,	-	-	33,033 87
Ground Rents,	-	-	9,608 23
Books and Stationery,	-	-	38,806 84
Repairs and Additions,	-	-	25,111 82
Fuel,	-	-	18,544 59

Furniture,	-	-	8,482 32
Printing and Incidentals,	-	-	3,697 99
Clerk Hire,	-	-	1,200 00
New School Houses,	-	-	13,645 97
General Expenses,	-	-	10,350 82
			$546,430 32

NEW PUBLIC SCHOOL BUILDINGS.

Four new School Houses have been authorized during the past year, and are now nearly finished. These are,

1. The Beideman Secondary and Primary School, a two-story building, in the Eleventh Section, in St. John street, above Buttonwood; cost $4,500, and capable of accommodating four hundred scholars.

2. A Secondary and Primary School, a three story building, in the Sixteenth Section, situated on Howard street, near Girard avenue; cost $9,000, and capable of accommodating seven hundred and fifty scholars.

3. The Kenderton Unclassified School, a two-story building, in the Twenty-first Section, on Fifteenth below Tioga street; cost $4,000, and capable of accommodating two hundred scholars.

4. The Barton Unclassified School, a two-story building, in the Twenty-fifth Section, on Frankford road, near Frankford; cost $3,000, and capable of accommodating three hundred scholars.

NEW RENTED BUILDINGS.

The want of proper buildings in the Nineteenth Section has been very urgent, on account of the entire unsuitableness of those rented for school purposes, and their inadequacy, such as they were, to meet the wants of all who were applying for admission. In this emergency, there being no appropriation for the erection of buildings in this Ward, several public-spirited citizens, interested in the prosperity of the section, were induced to build school houses of a suitable character, at their own expense, and to lease them to the Controllers. These are,

1. The Witte Public School, built by Mr. William H. Witte, a three-story building, at the corner of York and Tulip streets; rented for $1,350 a year, and capable of accommodating seven hundred and fifty scholars.

2. The Price Grammar School, built by Mr. Michael Price, a three-story building, on Howard street, between Diamond street and Susquehanna avenue, opposite to Norris square; rented for $1,500 a year, and capable of accommodating seven hundred and fifty scholars.

3. The Megargee Public School, built by Mr. William Haupt, a three-story building, on the corner of Susquehanna avenue and Apple street; rented for $1,350 a year, and capable of accommodating seven hundred and fifty scholars.

THE CROWN STREET BUILDING.

In addition to the foregoing new school houses, the church building in Crown street above Race, which had been purchased for a market site, having been transferred by ordinance of City Councils to the Controllers, to be used for school purposes, has been fitted up in the very best manner, at a cost of $3,500, for the use of the schools of the Sixth Section. The building, as at present altered, is admirably adapted to the purposes designed, and will accommodate six hundred scholars.

We have thus, during the year, with the very moderate outlay of only $21,000, provided for the permanent accommodation of 4,500 scholars, with buildings and fixtures of the latest and most approved style, instead of the unsuitable and unhealthy ones before used.

In all the new school houses which have been erected, whether by the public or by private individuals, much more attention has been paid than formerly to such a style of construction, and especially to such modes of heating and ventilation, as would conduce to the health of the scholars. On this point, the Controllers are convinced that there has been, in former times, a culpable degree of negligence.

It is much to be regretted that, while the minds of our boys and girls are undergoing development and discipline, so little is done to advance their bodily health and vigor. The idea has now been exploded that there is any natural or necessary connection between intellectuality and debility, or that the mind can only be made to expand at the body's expense. On the contrary, the good brain requires a good body to work with. Strong muscles, full respiration and good digestion are of consequence to the active even more than to the sluggish intelligence.

If, therefore, it were possible to combine physical with mental training, it would undoubtedly make of our boys abler men, and of our girls more useful women. The influence of such a system upon their future health, and in the end on the aggregate health of the community, cannot be estimated. Even morality may be favored thereby, since a certain proportion of the temptations of humanity have a very close association with physical infirmities. Too long or interrupted sessions in the school room, or too heavy task work between hours, any thing, in fact, which cramps or unduly con-finer the body, while it must prove irksome and injurious to the mind, may lay the foundation for protracted or even rapidly fatal disease.

Most of all is it important that the essential conditions of health should be maintained in all educational institutions, large and small. Pure air, frequently renewed, is one of these. Ventilation requires liberal and judicious attention in the construction of school houses, because some of the deficiencies connected with a faulty mode of building can hardly be rectified afterwards, by any management. It is necessary in cold weather to have sufficient warmth; and there is a constant temptation to promote this by excluding air. This is immediately injurious, by inducing contamination of air which is breathed over and over again. The true principle is, to furnish enough heat to allow of an abundant supply of fresh air from without, and to provide this by arrangements which cannot be meddled with, at the same time that they are attended by none of the dangers which open windows produce. This principle is now carried out in our newest hospitals and other public buildings, and is entitled to the consideration of all who are interested in public or private schools.

The public schools of Philadelphia are its ornament and pride. The standard of instruction in them will compare favorably, it is believed, with that of the cities most advanced in this respect, while by a wise economy the rate of expense has been uniformly kept below that of all of the large cities. The people have always felt the deepest interest in the welfare of these institutions, and no item in the public expenditures is more willingly met than the annual appropriation for their support. One reason, doubtless, of the cheerfulness with which this part of the public burdens is borne, is the fact that a large majority of the present adult population of the city have received in these schools whatever education they possess.

There is, too, the very general conviction that the diffusion of knowledge and intelligence resulting therefrom, has contributed largely to that skill in the mechanical and industrial arts, which has placed Philadelphia at the head of the manufacturing cities of the country. Besides the direct benefits accruing to the many hundreds of thousands of citizens who have been thus educated, it is felt that the system, by its exactness, efficiency and economy, has had a decided and beneficial influence upon private schools. Alongside of the public schools, in their present state of efficiency and discipline, it is impossible for private schools to maintain any reputable footing, unless the teachers are zealous and skilful to a degree far beyond that formerly required.

Besides the general results here reported, the Controllors give in the accompanying Tables minute information in regard to every item of expenditure, and full details respecting each of the schools.

In conclusion, the Controllors desire to record their gratitude to the Disposer of all events for the manifold providential blessings which have rested upon our system of public schools, for their exemption, during the long period of forty-three years, from all those appalling calamities by fire, panic, and other disasters, which have overtaken many schools elsewhere, for the general health which has prevailed among the scholars and teachers, and for the disposition which exists among the people and their representatives to sustain the schools by wise and liberal appropriations. No conviction is clearer to our minds than the belief that the Divine favor is needed to the success of all our public institutions, and especially of those connected with the education of the young. "Except the Lord build the house, they labor in vain that build it."

B. M. DUSENBERRY,
President.

OF

NICHOLAS H. MAGUIRE, A. M.,

PRINCIPAL OF THE CENTRAL HIGH SCHOOL,

FOR THE 46th AND 47th TERMS,

Ending July 11th, 1861, and February 13th, 1862.

R E P O R T .

To Messrs. Thomas G. Hollingsworth, Thomas W. Marchmont, Lewis Bitting, Thomas Fitzgerald, and Thomas Wood, Committee on the Central High School.

GENTLEMEN :—In compliance with the regulations of the Controllers of the Public Schools, I respectfully submit the following Report for the year ending February 14th, 1862, comprising the forty-sixth and forty-seventh terms.

By the action of the Board of Controllers, the Professorships of Anatomy, Physiology and Natural History, of Practical Mathematics, and of the French Language, were declared vacant December 31st, 1861.

The Committee determined to follow the plan generally adopted, and ordered that an examination should be held January 17th and 18th.

In selecting examiners for the various positions, particular care was taken to obtain the aid of gentlemen of such undoubted qualifications, as would secure confidence in the result ;
and the Committee were fortunate in securing for the task of testing the fitness of candidates for the several chairs, the services of the following named gentlemen, whose eminent social and professional position entitles their decisions to the unquestioning assent of the community.

The examination of Candidates for the Professorship of the French Language was conducted by Messrs. Edward King, Richard R. Montgomery, C. J. Stille, F. Maroteau, and V. Semeladis—that for the Professorship of Practical Mathematics by Professors Allen and Stephens, and the examination of Candidates for the Professorship of Anatomy, Physiology and Natural History, by Drs. Paul B. Goddard, Joseph Leidy, Francis G. Smith, Jr., J. H. B. McClellan, S. Weir Mitchell, and R. C. Bridges.

The Candidates for the chairs of Anatomy and Practical Mathematics were required to instruct the senior class of the school, in the presence of the examiners, in order to test the ability to impart and to interest.

Full and explicit reports, exhibiting the methods of conducting the examination, are herewith submitted, together with copies of the questions and tabular results.

At a special meeting of the Board of Controllers, held February 4th, Professor F. A. Brégy was elected Professor of the French Language; Dr. Henry Hartshorne, Professor of Anatomy, Physiology and Natural History; and Joseph Wilson, A. M., Professor of Practical Mathematics.

For the statistics of the School, I refer you to the accompanying tables.

Very respectfully,

NICHOLAS H. MAGUIRE.

REPORT OF EXAMINERS

FOR THE PROFESSORSHIP OF FRENCH LANGUAGE.

PHILADELPHIA, January 18th, 1862.

To the Committee on the High School of the Board of Controllers.

GENTLEMEN :—The undersigned having been appointed by your Committee to hold an examination of Candidates for the Professorship of the French Language in the Central High School, beg leave to report that an examination was held by them, pursuant to public notice, on Friday the 17th January, 1862.

Messieurs Justin Clave, F. L. M. Jégo, F. M. J. Surault, Guillemet, F. A. Brégy, Amedée Vaillant, and De Lannoy, presented themselves as candidates.

The undersigned submitted each candidate to a thorough examination of his acquirements, both in the theory and the practice of his profession, and have much satisfaction in stating that they all exhibited much proficiency and high qualifications as teachers of the French language. Upon a deliberate consideration of all the requisites necessary for the peculiar position to be filled, however, the undersigned have unanimously determined to recommend to your Committee Mr. Francis A. Brégy as the most suitable person to fill the vacancy now existing in the Professorship of the French language at the High School.

Very respectfully, your obedient servants,

EDWARD KING,
RICHARD R. MONTGOMERY,
C. J. STILLE,
F. MAROTEAU,
V. SEMELADIS.

REPORT OF EXAMINERS

FOR THE PROFESSORSHIP OF PRACTICAL MATHEMATICS.

PHILADELPHIA, January, 1862.

TO THOS. G. HOLLINGSWORTH, Esq., Chairman of the Committee on the Central High School.

SIR :—The undersigned, having been appointed to examine the Candidates for the Chair of Practical Mathematics in the Central High School of this city, and having discharged that duty, have the honor to submit their report.

The examination occupied the afternoon of January 17th, and the whole of January 18th, and was conducted in writing. The following list of questions was placed in the hands of each candidate, fifteen on the first day and fifteen on the second:

I. ALGEBRA.

1. Given $x + y + \sqrt{x + y} = 12$ $x^3 + y^3 = 189$ to find x and y .
2. Define a geometrical progression and give the sum of 10 terms of the series, 1, 2, 4, 8, &c.
3. What are logarithms?
4. What are the base and modulus of the common logarithms?
5. Find the algebraic expression for the amount of a sum of money p , at compound interest for t years, at r per cent.

II. GEOMETRY.

1. In every quadrilateral inscribed in a circle, the rectangle of the two diagonals is equivalent to the sum of the rectangles of the opposite sides taken two and two.
2. Find a square that shall be equivalent to a given pentagon.
3. If a circular segment is revolved about a diameter exterior to it, the volume generated is measured by $\frac{1}{6} \pi$ into the square of the chord into the distance between the perpendiculars let fall from the extremities of the arc on the chord.

III. TRIGONOMETRY.

1. Give some equivalent expressions for $\sin. x$, $\cos. x$, and $\tan. x$.
2. In any triangle the sum of the two sides containing either angle, is to their difference as the tangent of half the sum of the two other angles is to the tangent of half their difference.
3. Prove that $\sin. p - \sin. q = 2 \cos. \frac{1}{2} (p + q) - \sin. \frac{1}{2} (p - q)$. [Explanation, p is the sum of two contiguous arcs of a circle, and q their difference.]
4. Prove that in any spherical triangle the sines of the sides are proportional to the sines of their opposite angles.

5. Define Napier's circular parts; and give his two rules for the solution of right angled spherical triangles.

6. Having three sides of an oblique angled spherical triangle, give the formula for finding one of the angles A , in terms of its sine and cosine.

7. Show the importance of trigonometry to railroad engineering; to surveying and levelling; and to navigation.

IV. ANALYTICAL GEOMETRY.

1. Prove that the square of the minor axis of an ellipse is to the square of the major axis, as the rectangles of the abscissas of the former are to the squares of their ordinates.

2. Find the equation of a tangent to the parabola.

3. A point and a straight line being given, in what curve will be found the centres of all the circles passing through the given point and touching the given line?

V. SURVEYING.

1. State the necessity of knowing the variation of the magnetic needle, and the manner of determining it?

2. Would it make any difference in a survey, if part of the lines were run by the compass at one time of the day, and another part at another hour, or on a different day?

3. Explain the method of finding the horizontal distance between two inaccessible objects, only one of which can be seen from a single station.

VI. NAVIGATION.

1. In parallel sailing, prove that the cosine of the latitude of the parallel is to radius, as the distance run is to the difference of longitude.

VII. ASTRONOMY.

1. Explain refraction, parallax, and aberration.

2. Explain the retrograde motion of the moon's nodes and its cause.

3. Explain the equation of time.

4. Given the right ascension and declination of a star to find its longitude and latitude.

5. Given the heliocentric longitude and latitude of a planet to find its geocentric longitude and latitude.

VIII. DIFFERENTIAL CALCULUS.

1. Find the differential of $a x^3 y^2$.

2. The tangent of an angle whose radius is 1, being expressed by $\frac{\sin z}{\cos z}$, find its differential.

3. Divide the known number a into two parts, such that the product of the m power of the one into the n power of the other, shall be the greatest possible.

*Summary of examination in Mathematics, Central High School, Jan.
17th and 18th, 1862.*

Candidates.	Accuracy.	Fulness.	Style.	Average on a basis of 10.
No. 1,.....	8.73	8.83	8.90	8.82
No. 2,.....	7.53	7.50	7.36	7.46
No. 3,.....	Withdrawn.
No. 4,.....	9.13	9.06	9.33	9 17
No. 5,.....	7.60	7.10	7.83	7.51

While the exercises of all the candidates were creditable to them, and showed a very respectable acquaintance with the subjects of the examination, the exercises of candidates No. 1 and No. 4 were so distinguished by accuracy and skill as to warrant the Committee in recommending them both, as far as depends on this examination, as eminently qualified to discharge the duties of the professorship for which they are applicants.

Five candidates presented themselves for examination, who are known to the undersigned as Nos. 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5, and the names corresponding to these numbers were sealed up in envelopes, and placed in your hands. Each candidate was requested to write his number at the top of every page of his written work. At the close of the first day, No. 3 withdrew from the contest, but the others continued their examination to its close.

The results of a careful review of the papers submitted by Nos. 1, 2, 4, and 5, are put in tabular form for your inspection, and appended to this report.

Respectfully submitted,

WM. H. ALLEN,

LEMUEL STEPHENS,

Examiners.

EXAMINATION

IN MATHEMATICS CONTINUED JAN. 24TH.

In addition to the written examination, a trial being required of the two highest candidates, which should test their abilities as instructors, candidates No. 1 and No. 4 presented themselves at the High School on Friday the 24th inst.

Several subjects were furnished to them in Algebra and Geometry, from which they were requested to select one in each study, and explain them in turn before a class. The presence, during that exercise, of several members of the Committee on High School, relieves, in a measure, the delicacy which the Examiner felt in being called on to determine the merits of two performances, both of which exhibited so high an order of professional skill. But considering that the class was to be supposed previously unacquainted with the subjects to be explained, some distinction is due in favor of candidate No. 1, for carefulness in the statement of the steps of his reasoning, and for that energy and spirit in address which is so necessary on part of the teacher, in order to secure the attention and interest of his class.

The marks assigned to the exercises, and their averages, combined with the averages obtained at the written examination, are given in the following table :

CANDIDATES.	EXAMINATION IN TEACHING.				Average in Teaching.	Average in Written Examination.	Total Average.

No. 4,.....	8.	9.	10.	9.	9.	9.17	9.08

One of the Examiners having been unavoidably absent from the examination in teaching, his signature cannot be obtained to this part of the report.

Respectfully submitted,

LEMUEL STEPHENS.

REPORT OF THE EXAMINERS

FOR THE PROFESSORSHIP OF ANATOMY, PHYSIOLOGY, AND NATURAL HISTORY.

January 31st, 1862.

TO T. G. HOLLINGSWORTH, ESQ.,

Chairman of Committee on Central High School.

SIR:—We, the undersigned, Examiners appointed by the Committee on the Central High School to test the qualifications of applicants for the Professorship of Physiology, Anatomy, Natural History, and Hygiene, beg leave to report the following as the result of our examination of the merits of the several candidates.

Our opinion as to the examination by written questions is expressed in the usual form in Table No. 1, appended.

In the oral examination, the candidate having been allowed to choose as his subject one of three, which were submitted to him a few minutes before the time of the lecture, was afterwards permitted to question the pupils present, so as to exhibit as fully as possible his method of instruction. The subjects chosen for lecture by the candidates are stated below, and our average estimate of the capacity for teaching shown by the applicants, is presented in the Table No. 2, appended.

On account of the superior proficiency of Doctor Hartshorne and Prof. Haldeman, we respectfully recommend that the choice of the Board should be limited to one of these two candidates.

PAUL B. GODDARD, M.D.,
JOSEPH LEIDY, M.D.,
FRANCIS G. SMITH, JR., M.D.,
J. H. B. M'CLELLAN, M.D.,
S. WEIR MITCHELL, M.D.,
R. C. BRIDGES, M.D.

QUESTIONS IN SPECIAL HUMAN ANATOMY.

1. Give the anatomy and relations of the sphenoid bone.
2. Describe the pericardium and its mode of connexion with the diaphragm as well as its attachments to the base of the heart.
3. Enumerate the principal cartilages of the body and state what differences are found in them.
4. Describe the muscles of the abdomen and their mode of connexion at the linea alba.
5. Describe the internal maxillary artery and its branches.
6. Describe the fifth pair of nerves and its ramifications.
7. Enumerate the principal secreting glands and give the description and relations of one of them.
8. Describe the eye.

QUESTIONS ON PHYSIOLOGY.

1. Describe the process of gastric digestion, and give the composition of the gastric juice.
2. Describe intestinal absorption, stating what substances are absorbed by the veins, and what by the lymphatics.
3. Describe the types of circulation in the mammal, bird, fish and reptile.
4. What constitutes respiration? Describe the process in aquatic and air-breathing animals.
5. Describe, briefly, the functions of the liver, kidney and spleen.
6. State the ingredients of the blood, the origin and uses of the blood corpuscles, and those of the albumen and fibrin of that fluid.
7. What are the various agencies concerned in the production of heat in the animal economy?
8. What is the present theory of menstruation and ovulation?
9. What are the two forms of nerve substance? State the divisions and functions of the nervous system.
10. What is meant by the recurrent sensibility of the anterior nerve-roots of the spinal nerves, and how is it explained?

QUESTIONS ON NATURAL HISTORY.

1. What are the five divisions of the Animal Kingdom ?
2. What are the characteristics of the highest division ?
3. How do the cetacea differ from fishes ?
4. What are the peculiarities of the ruminantia ?
5. Why are the acalephs so called ? and what is the character of the organs from which they are so named ?
6. What is the general arrangement of the nervous system in the four higher divisions of the Animal Kingdom ?
7. What is the character of the organ of hearing in the gasteropods ?
8. What is the difference of the respiratory apparatus of insects and crustacea ?
9. How does the shell of the acephalous mollusks grow ?
10. Describe the heart and course of the circulation in mollusks.
11. What are the characteristics of the Exogens and Endogens ? Give examples of both.
12. What are Diatomes, and how are they reproduced ?

QUESTIONS ON HYGIENE.

1. What is hygiene ?
2. What is the use of drainage in towns, and what are best disinfectants or deodorizing agents ?
3. State in cubic feet the amount of breathing space required in dormitories, and the best methods of changing the air of crowded apartments ?
4. What evils arise from over-crowding the population of cities, ships and hospitals ?
5. What are the objections to intra-mural interments ?
6. What influence upon health is exerted by bathing ?
7. State, briefly, the evil influences upon health of the following occupations : making of phosphorus, matches, needle-grinding, working in lead, looking-glass making.

QUESTIONS IN HUMAN HISTOLOGY.

1. Describe the intimate structure of bone ?
2. Describe the intimate structure of cartilage.
3. Describe the intimate structure of the areolar tissue.
4. Give the minute anatomy of the liver, with the relations of its component parts to each other.
5. Describe the mucous membrane of the small intestine.
6. Give the minute structure and relations of the retina.

COMMENCEMENTS.

The Commencement at the close of the Forty-sixth Term, was held at the Academy of Music, on the 11th of July, 1861. The exercises were opened with prayer by the Rev. Phillips Brooks, and an Introductory Address by Richard Ludlow, Esq. The Honorary Address was delivered by Byerly Hart, the Salutatory, (second honor,) by Joseph L. McFarland, the Historical Address, (third honor,) by William H. James, and the Valedictory by David Evans. Other Addresses were made by Benjamin F. Napheys and Edward R. Worrell.

Of the 542 students who attended school during the Forty-sixth Term, 81 were declared Meritorious, having term averages of scholarship between 85 and 95; and 32 Distinguished having term averages over 95; 84 left, having remained in the school less than two years; 30 completed two years or more of the course, but less than four; and 14 having completed the full four years' course, were admitted to the degree of Bachelor of Arts. The degree of Master of Arts was conferred upon 18 graduates of the four years' course, of not less than five years' standing.

The Commencement for the Forty-seventh Term, was held at the Academy of Music, on the 13th of February, 1862. The exercises were opened with prayer by the Rev. John Chambers; and an Introductory Address by Thomas Fitzgerald, Esq. The Honorary Address was delivered by Julius Stern, the Salutatory, (second honor,) by Joseph Chandler Murphy, the Historical Address, (third honor,) by Albert F. Hackstadter, and the Valedictory by Louis A. Kershaw. Other speeches were made by David W. Hunt, Richard Y. Cook, Thomas J. Mustin, William Strong, and William H. M. Oram.

Of the 564 students who attended school during the Forty-seventh Term, 111 were declared Meritorious, and 32 Distinguished; 99 left, having remained in the school less than two years; 52 completed two years or more of the course, but less than four; and 24 having completed the full four years' course, were admitted to the degree of Bachelor of Arts. The degree of Master of Arts was conferred upon 10 graduates of the four years' course, of not less than five years standing.

A TABLE showing the numbers that belonged to the High School at the beginning of the Forty-sixth and Forty-seventh Terms, the Classes to which they belonged, the Numbers that left during those Terms, or at the close, and the Classes from which they left.

From the organization of the School, October, 1838, to the present time, a period of $23\frac{1}{2}$ years, the whole number of those who have left is 4,555. These are distributed as follows: 2,169 left before the expiration of two years of their course; 1,607 attended the school a period of two years or more, but less than four years; and 779 completed the full course. Of this last number, 300 being graduates of the full course of not less than five years' standing, have received the degree of Master of Arts. The facts are presented with more particularity in the following table:

GRADUATING CLASSES.

At the close of each term, diplomas were awarded to those who, having completed their course, exhibited proficiency in the subjects studied in the School, skill in imparting instruction, and tact in managing classes. Although the pupils are not pledged, at their admission, to become teachers, none are graduated without being subjected to a trial of their skill in teaching and governing others.

P. A. Cregar, Principal, and Instructor in Theory and Practice of Teaching, Latin, Chemistry, and Natural Philosophy.

Miss Mary E. Houpt, Teacher of Rhetoric, Moral and Mental Science.

Miss Josephine Johnson, Teacher of Ancient History, Geology, Botany, and Latin.

Miss Renée N. Townsend, Teacher of Drawing, Ornamental Penmanship, and Physiology.

Miss Martha H. Rodgers, Teacher of Higher Mathematics.

Miss Matilda C. Barns, Teacher of English Literature and English History.

Miss Marian Ash, Teacher of Elocution and Calisthenics.

Miss Anna B. Duff, Teacher of Grammar and Penmanship.

Miss Caroline Price, Teacher of Modern History, Geography, and Latin Grammar.

Miss Henrietta Thomas, Teacher of Algebra, Mensuration, and Arithmetic.

Miss Mary M. Henderson, Teacher of Music.

SCHOOL OF PRACTICE.

This branch of the School, organized out of Divisions E. and F., has fully accomplished the purpose for which it was designed, and is a good substitute for the Model School.

The pupils in this department are well taught, and the pupil teacher acquires, from the constant correction and advice of the superintending teacher, a skill in her profession which she could scarcely obtain, by her unassisted efforts, from the experience of years.

DISCIPLINE.

The discipline of the School is entirely of a moral character, and is duly appreciated by the pupils.

The age and previous training of those who are admitted to the High School, have given them such a sense of propriety, as rarely to make it necessary to inflict the mild penalties of the School, which consist entirely in demerit marks. The general ambition of the scholars makes this an effective means of restraint, as any considerable number of these marks would affect the standing and prevent the promotion of those who receive them.

The power of giving these demerits is possessed by each teacher, and it has always been used with so much judgment, as to make an appeal to the Principal, or the Committee hitherto unknown.

Gross misconduct, or an act of disobedience to any teacher, would exclude the offender from such teacher's recitations till a satisfactory apology should be given. Should the delinquent prove stubborn, or require an unreasonable time to make suitable reparation for her misconduct, she would be suspended until the case should be decided by the Committee. An occurrence of this kind, requiring suspension, has not taken place during the present administration.

The general deportment of the pupils merits the entire approbation of the teachers.

ATTENDANCE.

No greater evidence of interest in the studies of the School need be furnished than the regular and punctual attendance of the pupils. Although many come from the remotest parts of the city, lateness is of very rare occurrence; and the absentees during the year scarcely amount to three per cent. of the number belonging.

CALISTHENICS.

For want of a more extensive apparatus, this department is confined to exercises with dumb-bells. These exercises, though not sufficiently general in their effect on the physical system, serve to sustain it against the injurious results of purely intellectual effort in the school room. The benefits arising from these limited gymnastics clearly establish the utility of uniting physical with mental training.

If those who control and allot to the school department the means for its support, would give this subject its proper consideration, every school in our city would be furnished with a well ordered apparatus for physical development.

The paramount importance of physical culture must present itself prominently in every scheme for the improvement of our educational system, till it occupies the high position in the training of our youth, which its merit demands.

EXAMINATION OF CANDIDATES.

This subject was treated of to such an extent in the last report, as to leave but little to be added at this time.

Both the examinations held during the year, clearly indicate the wisdom of rescinding the resolutions by which the examinations are confined to certain parts only of the text books used in the Schools.

In calling your attention to the present limitations, permit me to suggest, that it would be well to revise the studies assigned to each grade of school, and to require the examination for promotion from one grade to another, to be such as to furnish ample proof of proficiency in the lower studies.

TEACHERS.

The success of the pupils during the past year bears ample testimony to the faithfulness and ability of the teachers.

The discipline and manner of imparting instruction in the School are well calculated to win the esteem, affection and confidence of the pupils, who, under the tuition of the present corps of teachers, cannot fail to improve to the full extent of their abilities.

The School sustains an almost irreparable loss in the resignation of Miss Mary E. Tazewell, the faithful and efficient teacher of the Department of Ancient History, Geology, Botany and Latin. Miss Tazewell's connection with the School dates from its origin, and therefore she leaves more than an ordinary vacancy.

In her withdrawal, the faculty lose the co-operation of her zealous labors, and the pupils part with one, whose earnest desire for their welfare was manifested on all occasions, and whose high moral tone ever exerted upon them its exalted influence.

This vacancy has been filled by the appointment of Miss Josephine Johnson, who has so ably taught kindred branches in another department of the School.

To supply Miss Johnson's place the Committee have been very fortunate in procuring the services of Miss Caroline Price, whose long connection with the Model School, as its Principal, gives promise of eminent success in her present position.

Having thus briefly recounted the more prominent operations of the School during the past year, it affords me great pleasure to assure you that its present general condition is as prosperous as at any former period of its history.

Respectfully submitted,

P. A. CREGAR,

Prin
